We must study man in order to study the universe, and study the universe in order to study man. Here, we begin with the first initiations into a new knowledge that can eventually change our understanding and being. Remember always that "Form Follows Function"; the idea is always before the experience. This is what The Secret is all about - the law of attraction. Like attracts like. There is also a law of repulsion. To he that has much, more is given. To he who has little, even that is taken away. The Universe belongs to he who takes notes. Here is your first diagram... memorize it fully. You should be able to visualize it easily. The inner connections of meaning will come in time, but for now just accept and remember this data.

"Ray of Creation"

This is the Ray of Creation. OUR Ray. There are infinite rays but we are in this one. The notes are a convenience to memory & also have much to do later on. The list of astronomy is an observable fact. We merely have to look to see. The top is the fastest finest & most free. As we descend into grosser matters, the law of influences doubles at each level. So it gets slower & slower and more dense and coarse, as the laws increase from 1 to 3 to 6 to 12 to 24 to 48 to 96.

What can we say after such revelatory knowledge of our Ray of Creation? We must understand that there are many progressions of sequences. The Ray is the first of these series.

1 3 6 12 24 48 96 ... What does this MEAN, you ask? It indicates the laws governing each level in the hierarchy. It is most free and intelligent when it only has one law to follow. 96, by contrast, is under dense and mechanical laws that are anything but freedom. The idea of this work is that one can come out of the higher laws (actually lower) into fewer laws.

A man who has crystalized himself in the Sun has become immortal within the limits of the Solar System. This is a possible real aim.

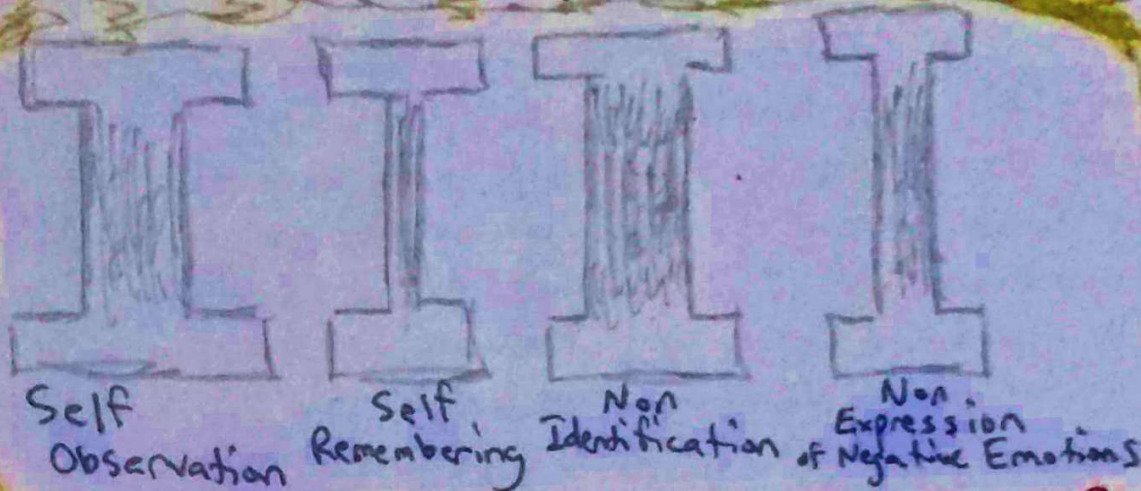

Turning our gaze on the next diagram to learn, we must know that this idea represents and connects to other diagrams. This diagram follows the Ray of Creation in the memory roll of my Teaching.

"Potential Bodies of Man"

When the Physical is in control, the other bodies are undernourished and can die. But if it is made passive, the astral body will form. Then this duo will become passive to the mental body. And so on with the causal body. This is called "Reversing the Pump." Higher bodies are reached through practical realization of these ideals. Read: Normal man eats and makes shit. Evolved man eats shit and makes food. So as we ascend the ray, our bodies literally transform!

So, you see we start out with our Ray, then realize our bodies are analogous to varying levels in the Ray. It is more than analogy; it can become a fact to you through practice of the Four Pillars of the Work. "Tell us the four pillars, then."

The Four Pillars of the Great Work

We will learn much about the four pillars. Each pillar supports the others, Self Observation is the first. It is the practice of being an impartial witness to all life events. One must separate oneself from oneself. Self Remembering is basically being conscious and united in our Essence. We bring all force to bear when we remember ourselves and at the same time to remain unidentifed. Finally, negative emotions destroy our energies—and in order to benefit from the other pillars, this DAM must be constructed in which no negative emotion is expressed.

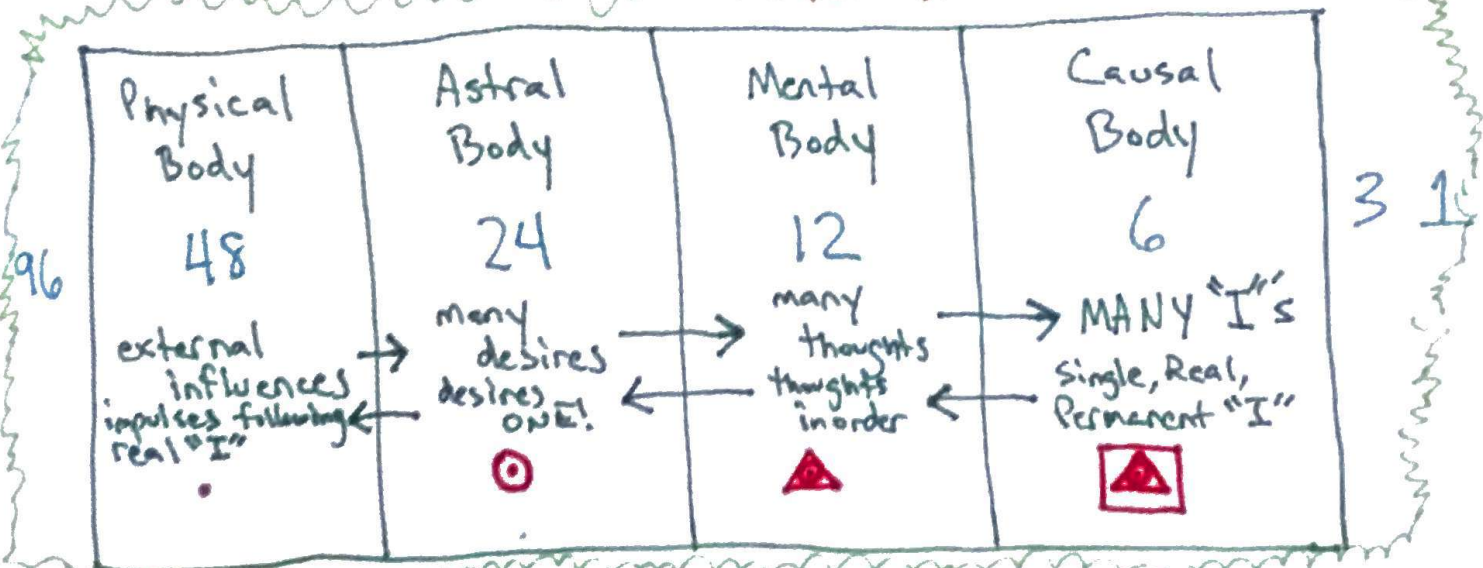

What can we say after such revelatory knowledge of our Ray of Creation? We must understand that there are many progressions of sequences. The Ray is the first of these series.

We can use the Four Pillars at any time. Do you see how? We remember the Ray of Creation, and can observe it. We must not identify w/ it or we will lose force. If we express negative emotions, we will never be able to separate ourselves from ourselves. If you have never thus separated, you will never experience higher bodies.

Now, we come to learn how deep octaves go. This is very important to remember, and though it seems like technical scientific hogwash, accept on my behalf the truth of the universality of the Law of Octaves. To he who knows the laws of the passage of octaves, can understand any process or series of related events. Memorize everything!

Descending Involutionary Octave

The Ascending Evolutionary Octave is like a special creation that appears at points in the Descending Involutionary Octave. You will learn more if you try to see the connection with the D.I. octave & the Ray of Creation. The involutory current creates three suboctaves that are mathematically present in all D.I. octaves. They start at 1/2, go to 1/4, then 1/8. Thus, inner doublings, the foremost characteristic of ~~of itself~~. Later you will see how these three inner octaves relate to matter and energy that is accessible and used by the biological processes basic to human energy construction and expense. The Ascending Octave will also need "outer octaves" in order to complete the threefold nature of our cosmic traits.

Now we have added a new series to our collection. The diatonic scale came from Higher Mind and can explain all things. Now we must turn our attention from octaves, to triads. The Law of Three is the Great Law. The Law of Seven is the secondary but coexistent order of manifestation. The Law of Three occurs in the diatonic scale at the notes do (+0), fa (+1/3), la (+2/3), and do(+1) is a repeat of the cycle an octave higher.

This is how the Law of Three plays out due to the Universal Will of His Endlessness.

Creation occurred when the 9 elements which operated on an Antiegotropic basis, because time was causing the diminution of the Holy Sun Absolute... So now the three forces were separated and were, are, and will involve and evolve. They now require only 7 notes, since the forces were aligned as you will now see, operating by the Trigonometric system.

There is a special symbol, which I might as well give you a glimpse of now. It shows the relationship of the seven and three together. There are many interpretations, but right now we will just gaze at a pretty picture, or should I say symbol. It is called the ENNEAGRAM.

Thus, the three "stands out" of the seven notes. This represents the ideal. The Absolute is clearly seen through this special diagram, you just wait and see! Then you will have facts.

Red Law of Three
Blue Law of Seven
Orange Law of Movement

As for some foreshadowing, $\frac{1}{8}$ and $\frac{7}{8}$ and $\frac{1}{2}$ can be interpreted differently. Some represent two opposites with a medium. Some are mutually beneficial.

First Introduction to the ENNEAGRAM

The enneagram is a universal symbol. Meet someone in the desert, trade traces of your visual database - but the enneagram always shows something new. Instantly, one recognizes who the elder. It is THE symbol of perfection. It is said to be perpetual motion, which people sought outside themselves, instead of inner lightness.

The Law of Seven is known as "the fundamental sacred law of the HEPTAPARASHINOKH." The Law of Three, "the fundamental sacred law of the TRIAMAZIKAMNO." Damn. It's Heptaparaparshinokh. False Personality, lying to oneself, fighting negativity with negativity. We will come to learn what these mean in time. Ancient knowledge, which has been passed on from initiate to initiate since time immemorial, always begins with passing on the "hat" of unity. Oneness with the Universe, we are made in God's image. We have Divine Right. We should demand that the Kingdom of God within supply tangibles in the Kingdom of mundane fulfillments. ^{parent I did it twice!} HEPTAPARASHINOKH

This is a "relief" page. You may or may not be interested, and in that case, just see me as a raving lunatic. But perhaps the images will make sense to you.

HEPTAPARAPARSHINOKH

One must be actively aware to notice synchronicity. When you fail to see the signs you are going blindly into disaster. Try to create your own "idea scenes" and try to see how much you can connect together.

Now back to business. There are many triads, and as we said before some contain "contradictory" elements while others just reflect a fundamental complementary property. (mutual associations) But in order to classify the infinitely many horde of triads, we can see something that emerges with the octave, since in Creation, all triads unite, act, & manifest in certain orders, and require octaves during their activity or process.

Now we will see that octaves allow 6 distinct possible triads. A seventh exists hypothetically as the three forces are united in the ideal Absolute.

3 Ascending Triads
3 Descending Triads

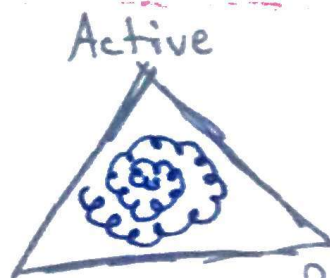

We can infer much from realizing that octaves manifest in either "up" or "down" in 6 different possible actualizations. Each triad has a special purpose in the Grand Scheme of Things. PQR is the natural progress of beginning an evolutionary attempt. QRP is the completion of that process, ending in RPA which is where the process either ascends or returns to the beginning. RPA is the gateway to the next higher octave, which indicates growth and sincere valuations of these ideas. On the involutionary side, PRQ indicates the existence of the Objective Structure, the beginning of a descent. RQP is further indication of the power of the involutionary waves. QPR is where the octave is descending into the lower octave, becoming slower, more dense, and less free.

Now that you have seen how the octave "facilitates" the Law of Three. The next step, is to learn about possible triads. Soon you will discover that the threefoldness of everything existing can be brought into the present moment by following the Four Pillars: Self-Observation, Self-Remembering, Non-Identification and Non-Expression of Negative Emotions. We will start you in easy, don't worry. The following is a diagram of a few triads, which will begin to allow you to actually verify their existence. Each is followed by a brief description.

Mental Astral

These represent the 3 higher body bodies developed on the path of this evolution.

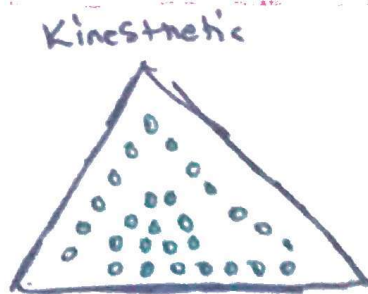

Naturalizing Passive

These are the modern "generalized" names used to distinguish between the three forces.

Accident Fate

These are the principle influences that we encounter day-to-day. Realizing the difference is totally enlightening.

Vision Audio

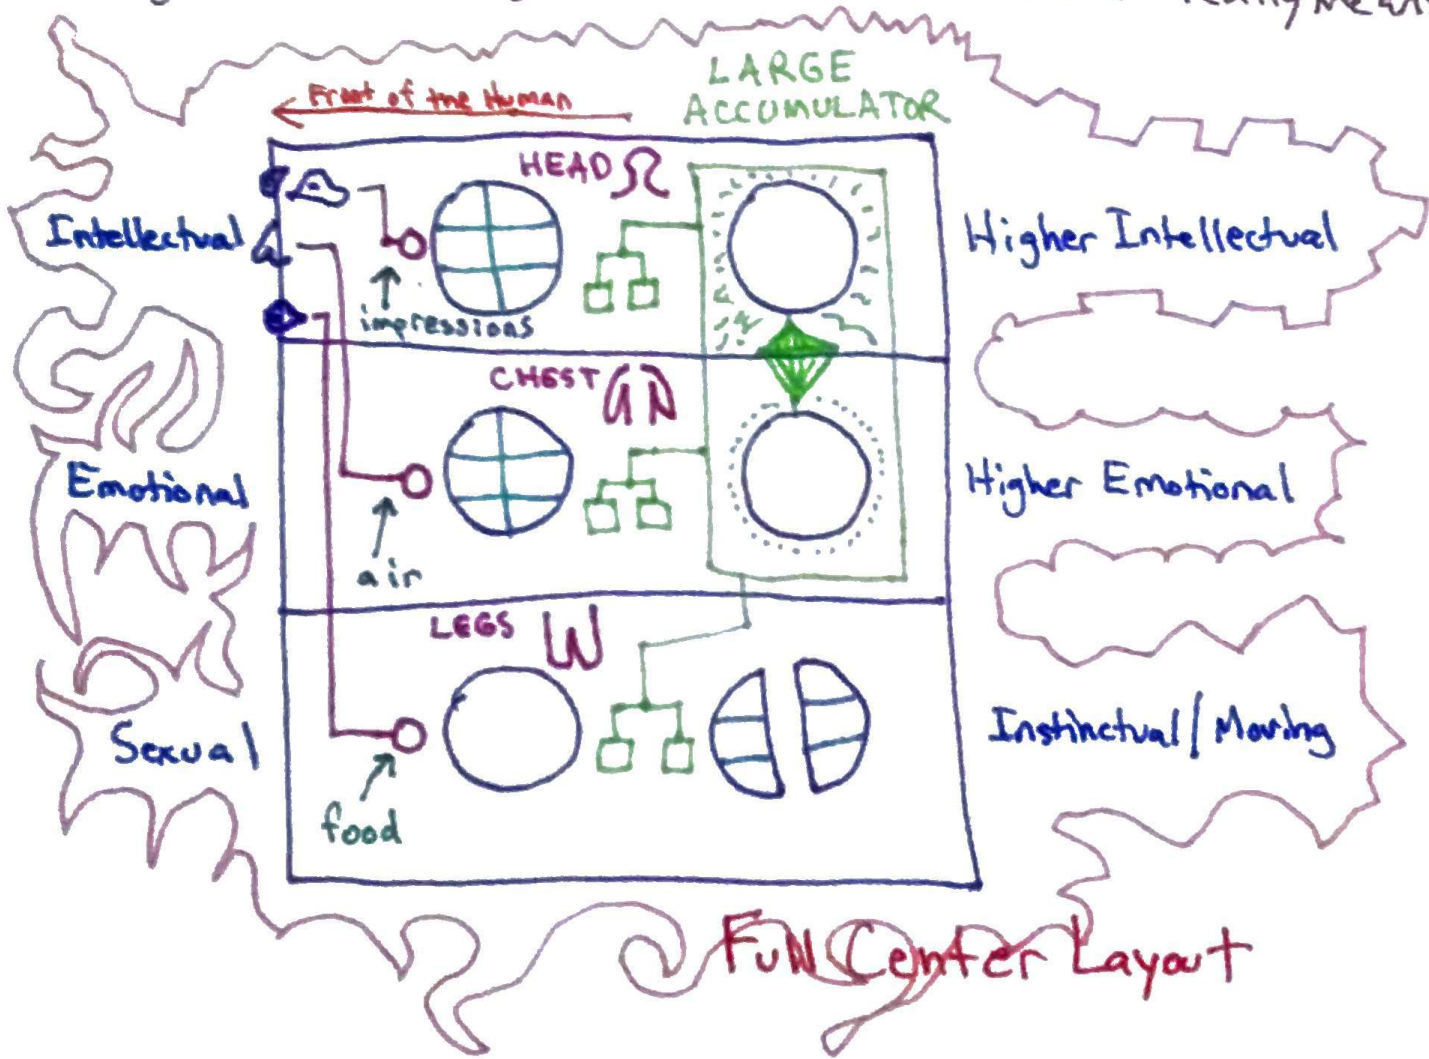

These represent three aspects of our practical existence. We have all three, but we usually have a predominant mode of perception and expression.

Glimpse of Some Triads

Try to memorize the triads, they are the most powerful tool that I have found!

Now we will discuss a little psychology. In this system, there is the threefold centers (intellectual, emotional, moving) But we add to that four more, to make seven centers in all. It is crucial to remember to observe and distinguish between the functions of the centers, but do not identify or become negative.

This following diagram should be learnt by heart. It will become so obvious in time that you will know that saying, "The greatest works of genius seem obvious afterwards" really means.

OK, so there's a lot there. The centers are located throughout the body, but these are ^{where} their center-of-gravity lies. The head receives impressions through the eyes and are sent to the lower intellect - but with the first conscious shock the higher intellect can be brought to bear in the moment. The chest receives air through the nose and the breath is intimately involved with the emotional center. The breath in conjunction with consciousness brings about conscience, or higher emotional. It is said that there is no distinction when we reach the higher centers. The centers have 2 small accumulators, which alternately work and rest. But connection to the large accumulator, if one is prepared, is a source of great force.

In this teaching, one must also know this triad. One must work to unite his many I's (more on this later) - then bring into proper balance the bodies, the centers, and, now that I think you are ready, the states of consciousness which lie beyond the ordinary, waking, so-called "clear consciousness" state. The body is a given. The essence is what is our own. And personality is what is not our own, that which has been gotten from imitation, culture, entertainment, education, society, civilization, hell, the Earth. External impressions form many desires (astral), then many thoughts (mental), then many I's (causal). When essence has overridden personality, and the shift from externalities into inner freedom, it will be nourished by your personality which has become passive. This is not the same as False Personality, buffers, Selfish Ego separation... Personality must merely change signs with the essence. Essence +, Personality -

This diagram shows the states of consciousness using a Cartesian grid. You may find that you would like to substitute words to try to understand, but it is better if you learn our common language; in order to understand one another, we must agree. Without agreement, there can be no understanding. Memorize this, don't slacken up now! (Before I tell you of slack that is c:)

Possible States of Consciousness

This is the most important. One must realize there are different degrees of consciousness. Time can pass slowly or quickly depending on your level of consciousness. Sleep is completely hallucinatory as is the waking state. Once you can separate yourself from yourself, you can remember yourself and work on unity. Objective consciousness dawns when the Four Pillars have been understood.

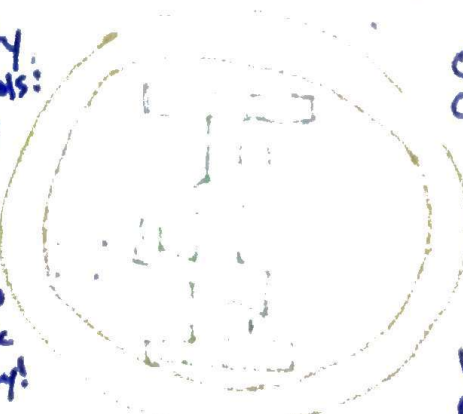

Let's be a little esoteric. How do all of these things relate? I assure you that with even a little study one can begin to see that these ideas are merely the beginning. How does one 'reverse the pump' and have all of his impulses, decisions, emotions, desires, and thoughts come from his Inner Being, his connection to his higher self, or God, or Universal Spirit... The four pillars are the foundation of this work. But the spice is Unselfish Love. Once all desires ONE, the astral body has surely been fused. But remember that lighter astral matter consumes or changes or even disintegrates when meeting even lighter astral matter. Paradox should be pretty clear by now. We use formative ideas to make decisions, the mechanical part of our intellectual center, when we should be consciously engaging our higher centers. We either do not see the practical import of this work, so they suffer pangs of remorse one day in the far future, or we think that the work is too technical, and only geniuses would ever pay any attention. These ideas are simple. I hold the water in my hands for you to drink, but drink you must.

We will see another simple sigil, that represents the beginning of all written communication. Try to grasp the meaning before reading the explanation. Hell, I'll throw in the works because I'm crazy like that.

Other dualisms in English?
Can you think of any? Subject/verb

Not to mention the fact that almost every word has an opposite. Every sentence can be inverted from active verbs or passive verbs. Nouns/pronouns....

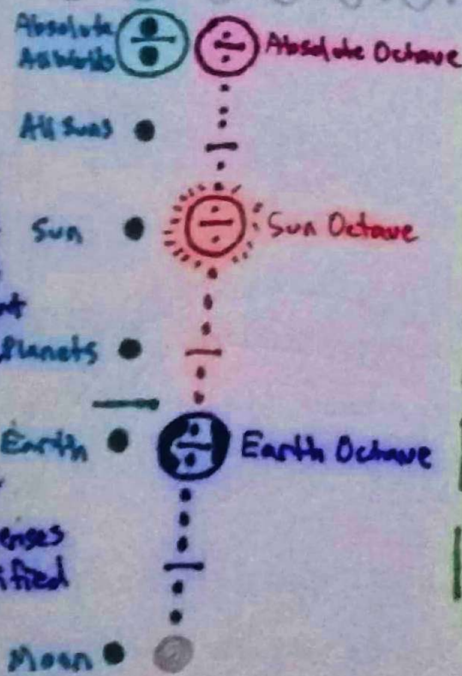

Language Basics

English is in my soul. I love it, and I think it is the easiest to learn. I also believe that with a few words of Sanskrit mixed in, English is the fastest and most conscious language IN THE UNIVERSE. Mmmhahaha. So just in case you didn't fully understand this page, I and O were the first letters. Just a coincidence that we use I and O as the two most important technologically? Or Q is the only letter not used in the periodic table!

I think we are ready for the structure of the three inner octaves of the grand Cosmic Octave which we reparticipants of. The three points (plus the fourth I guess) are the Four Fundamental Points of our Ray of Creation. They are there because of the doubling of frequency on another scale. The Absolute - The Sun - The Earth - The Moon - these are they. Between these three points lie the involutory vibrations that can be observed when one can perceive higher centers functioning.

This is a very easy thing to learn, although at first you may not see its practical import. This diagram is the key to classify, relate, and put into order the various levels of influence existing in our Ray. It represents vibrational essences in a simple to learn diagram. Try to notice "the pattern behind the pattern." That will make it easy to learn. The dots represent the notes do through si. The H means Hydrogen. More on this in a second. Also included is a more detailed look at how inner octaves of the involutory current relate to the Ray of Creation, hopefully the first one you memorized.

H (hydrogen) is any point in space. One hydrogen exists in any single point. This is important: we must take into account how fast, how fine, or how intelligent or how slow, how coarse, planets and especially how stupid it all is. So matters present to our observation through senses or tools can be identified in the sense of what level the vibration belongs to, in this special diagram.

H1
H3	?
H6	2 2 2
H12	4 6 4
H24	8 6 8

H384	O N O
H768	N O N
H1536	C C C
H3072	O N O
H6144	N O N
H12288	...

H6 ($\frac{111}{222}$) is the first hydrogen that is fully formed. H1 and H3 are only theoretical. But each hydrogen is composed of Carbon, Oxygen and Nitrogen. In the order of forces they go C → O → N, but in density they go C → N → O. This is how all the hydrogens are related. Memorize this diagram, realize that is only doubling each value each step down.

The Simplified Hydrogen Scale

This is only a brief overview of the Hydrogen Scale. The numbers dance a lot more clearly later on. This all goes back to threefoldness and sevenfoldness. One octave, splitting into three octaves ("inner") manifesting triads that create the do's of ever decreasing vibration.

To continue investigation of the Hydrogen Scale, we must realize the fewer the laws of a hydrogen, the faster, more intelligent, the finer it is. Of course, we admit the unity of all vibration, but we focus on being active and positive, and this will lead nowhere unless you can grasp that everything is vibration, and that the 3 inner octaves of the Ray of Creation represent gradations of density. There is matter from the Absolute, the hydrogens above H96 are all psychic and cosmic in nature. H96 represents, well I'll let a diagram do it. The hydrogens distinguish themselves by unique combinations of dancing forces, constantly changing place and evolving and involving. This diagram gives a rough outline of what the different levels of hydrogens mean.

H1	I	God	H192	Air
H3	I	The Voyager or Universal Spirit	H384	Water
H6	I	:	H768	Food
H12	I	:	H1536	Wood, Dirt, Stone

H96	I	Fire; Some Gases; ^{Animal} Vegetation	H12288	???

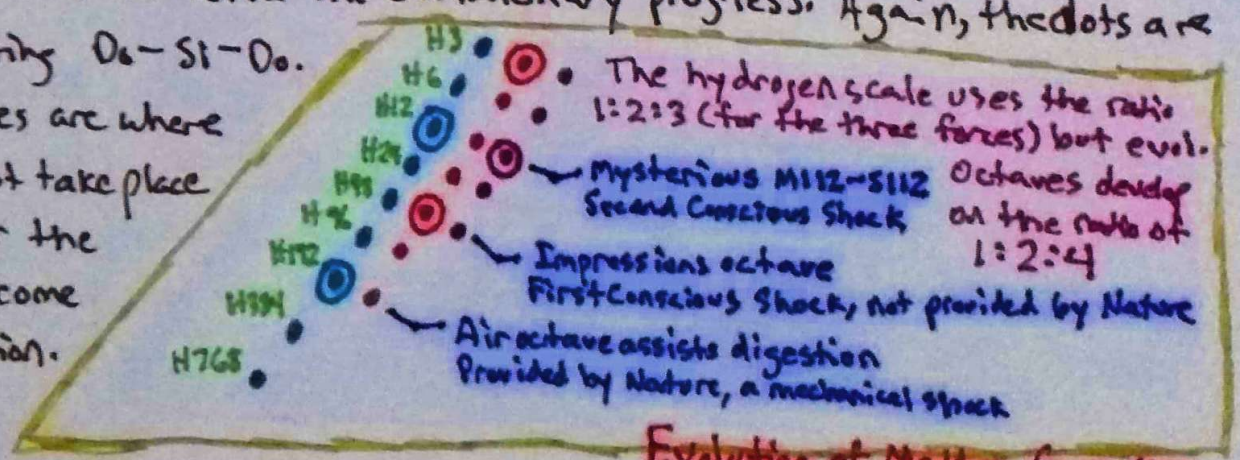

Hydrogen Table

More will be said about hydrogens. But here are a few tenets: each level of hydrogen is 30,000 times slower than the next level, and 30,000 times faster on a previous level. Memorize the different levels. All that exists is a mixture of the Absolute, Sun, Earth and Moon. Different vibrations have caused the variety of Nature. This table is the key to distinguishing between the chemical, electrical, biological, and cosmic nature of every possible 'atom' which we say means the smallest bit of a form. The atom as the solar system, are combinations of fractions of the Holy Sun Absolute. This table can unlock many mysteries. If you like another word so much try on different attributions to the levels. But this IS the Truth

In order to bring home the Hydrogen Table, let us learn about a new Law of Three. Every being we conceive to exist has three cosmic traits common to all their kind. First, the medium, or impressions - as simple as sensation, or perception, in which the organism exists and flourishes. Second, the air which they breathe. Thirdly, the food which they eat. So all beings we know of share these "cosmic traits". Each of these energies required for the existence of the organism are different hydrogens, different combinations of the 3 forces and the octaves that are evolutionary (3 "external" octaves). The three cosmic traits spawn all experience within a material physical body. They relate directly to one's well being and health and mental sanity.

You saw how octaves have 3 inner octaves - these are involutinary. This diagram shows how the two intervals allow two notes to come from borrowed octaves. Look at more than those two notes and you have fallen under a different octave. These are the three outer octaves that are the "Stairway to Heaven"; each mutually assisting each other in order to follow the evolutionary progress. Again, the dots are representing Do-Si-Do.

The circles are where shocks must take place in order for the octave to come to completion.

Evolution of Matter from the coarse to the fine

The food octave, that begins with 3rd baby food, proceeds until Mi, where (this is a deep word we will explore more later) an interval exists. This interval is passed by borrowing a note from another octave. Mi and Do help one another out. The first conscious shock occurs at the moment of receiving impressions, it is remembering your aim and all you have worked for so far. It is not present in average man. Without this shock, the air octave does not develop further. But if it does, work with one's selfish separate self, not being negative, could be the key to the Second Conscious Shock.

Now we will see the difference between the hydrogens in yet another light. The "I" energies will now become clear to you. Each hydrogen is like a fuel - something eats something else - this is law. Some activities of your centers require "gasoline" where others need "crude oil" or "kerosene". The centers in mechanical man are not balanced and his separate selves never rest. He uses the wrong center for the task at hand. His emotional center might work for the intellectual center, or vice versa. We are made in this way, where one center can work for another in order to maintain continuity of experience. But it is often the case, that imbalanced men have all sorts of wrong connections between their I's. The upcoming diagrams are rehashes, but they are necessary to repeat often. They show the "I" energies on the old center layouts, and also the levels of the three cosmic trait energy levels for humans.

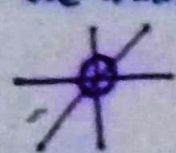

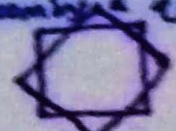

Relating Hydrogen Fuels for the Centers

So we see from this that there are very many hydrogens under our direct control. We cannot change our food, H768, or our air, H192, but we have the power to contact higher centers - our Inner Being one with the Universal Spirit. So this represents the ideals of proper energy - we have the power and right, as a Living Child of God, to be conscious when we receive impressions. This is our primary tool - our perception. Our only freedom too!

As we evolve, it would be nice, and help us to form a POINT in the work, if we remain mindful and concentrated. But as I told you, we have many series of orders that have come to us from Higher Mind. Esoteric geometry is a perfect new series for us to explore.

These should be a piece of cake to remember. Each higher number denotes a higher level of evolutionary development. You can gauge your progress very well by sincerely considering where your priorities lie, and your direct relation to the world & your connection or place in it.

Brief Overview of Sacred Geometry

Everyone is on a spiritual path. One who knows themselves, can easily peg a person to one of the symbols of esoteric geometry. Most only see one force, and identify, thus they can be seen as 1, the point. One who recognizes the many dualities begins to grow past mere contradictions and finds the paradox to be one's final solace. The trinity is formed after repeatedly reconciling paradoxes over time. One becomes balanced. Four comes next, as a fourth element begins to enter the trinity. In due course. Five is a very high state in which all physical centers are harmoniously balanced. Six, seven, and eight—all higher forms of integration.

Here we will learn another useful division of man. There are seven kind of men. The first three are: 1) Physical Man 2) Emotional Man 3) Intellectual Man. These three are one-sided and completely mechanical. The fourth and soon will be shown soon enough.

We're going to be exposed now to two new Laws of Seven.

They are not completely analogous but they have a well known order. This is part of learning a common language, and understand correspondences and contradictions. You should never have 'blind faith'. Seek to verify the truth of these ideas for yourself and you will develop.

Possible Modes of Experiences and Evolution of Man

8-Circuit Consciousness Model Being of Man

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1) Biosurvival - basic programs like avoiding fire because it burns | Physical Man ¹ - learns by imitation, parrot-like learning |
| 2) Emotional-Territorial - we 'protect', 'defend', and 'attack' 'territories' of emotional effect | Emotional Man ² - lives by likes and dislikes, pleasure and pain |
| 3) Semantic Laryngeal-Manual - concepts of a somewhat abstract nature, writing, reading, etc. | Intellectual Man ³ - driven by thought, judgements and comparisons, can be scientific |
| 4) Sociosexual - relationships in one's personal society; attraction & repulsion by laws | Balancing Man ⁴ - must begin to unite one's many I's, thus bring by centers into harmony |
| 5) Neurosomatic - sometimes rapturous sensations or maps of one's body; marijuana is a 5th circuit stimulant | United Man ⁵ - all centers proceed from the United Will of a real, permanent, single I |
| 6) Neuroelectric - this circuit is like your connection to the Universal electromagnetic fields - psychiatrists use this | Free Will Man ⁶ - all atoms of one's being vibrate with the Truth, higher and higher |
| 7) Neurogenetic - our interface to modify our DNA, this circuit can be activated by any powerful entheogen. | Universal Consciousness Man ⁷ - All of one's being is in harmony with the Universal Spirit, and one is conscious at will. |
| 8) Neuroatomic - supposedly the circuit that makes all the other circuits function lawfully - you must use strong psychedelics | |

We've just been x-posed to some new concepts. The 8-circuit consciousness model is the modern benchmark of identifying which circuit you are at the present operating in. But the Being of Man corresponds some times with the 8-CCM, no doubt it was instrumental in the updating of identifying (good kind) power. So do they also correspond to the Ray of Creation? Do they follow diatonic ratios? We do not care. We remember that the only distinguishing characteristics between levels of any representation of sevenfoldness, is that each level has 3 laws of its own, and all of the laws above it. A general is under fewer laws than his first commander. But the lieutenant is under the laws of the captain and the laws of all his superior officers. In the same way, the earth and moon are under the laws of our planetary system, which is under the laws of the sun, which laws are under the starry world or perhaps galaxy... which eventually comes to the Law of One - The Absolute for which there is no substitute. Be positive to everything except be negative for the Absolute.

That was all a little off topic from what will be shown next, but it actually relates directly and almost quite isomorphically.

One is ALWAYS responsible for which realm his consciousness dwells. Digital Heaven is perfection - we all remember this deep down. But it was just too glorious I suppose so we go to Analog Hell. We are in the moment only to work for the future or remember the past. We have no present moment - only a series of flashbacks and predelations. Transcending this duality is coming into Quantum Playground Proper.

We've just been x-posed to some new concepts. The 8-circuit consciousness model is the modern benchmark of identifying which circuit you are at the present operating in. But the Being of Man corresponds sometimes with the 8-CCM, no doubt it was instrumental in the updating of identifying (good kind) power. So do they also correspond to the Key of Creation? Do they follow diatonic ratios? We do not care. We remember that the only distinguishing characteristics between levels of any representation of sevenfoldness, is that each level has 3 laws of its own, and all of the laws above it. A general is under fewer laws than his first commander. But the lieutenant is under the laws of the captain and the laws of all his superior officers. In the same way, the earth and moon are under the laws of our planetary system, which is under the laws of the sun, which laws are under the starry world or perhaps galaxy... which eventually comes to the Law of One - The Absolute for which there is no substitute. Be positive to everything except be negative for the Absolute.

That was all a little off topic from what will be shown next, but it actually relates directly and almost quite isomorphically.

One is ALWAYS responsible for which realm his consciousness dwells. Digital Heaven is perfection - we all remember this deep down. But it was just too glorious I suppose so we go to Analog Hell. We are in the moment only to work for the future or remember the past. We have no present moment - only a series of flashbacks and predictions. Transcending this duality is coming into Quantum Playground Proper.

Hey, we learned of these triads so far: 3 cosmic traits of the medium of existence, the breath of life, and the need for nourishment.
 We learned of body, essence (what is our own), and personality (that which is not our own and is just mostly negative programming, thus we often call this type of ego "False Personality") - also were fate, accident, and will. Active passive and neutralizing. Causal, mental, astral.
 Audio, Kinesthetic, Visual. These are not all - the centers diagram holds: chest/head/legs, air/impressions/food, intellectual/emotional/physical.
 Also the hydrogens are built on 3. $1 + 2 + 3 = 6$ (H6 proper) So we have the fuel or energy of H768/H192/H48 - this is what our inputs take in. H48/H24/H12 is the average density of most people. But it can be H24/H12/H6 or the even more advanced H12/H6/H3. We also know the inner octaves and outer octaves are split into three octaves. Thus we also have 3 involutory currents that can be seen as one octave. But then we have the 3 evolutionary currents which mutually assist each other and are certainly 3 separate octave processes. This will become clearer.
 Here are some more laws of three to sink your teeth into.

C influences 3rd line future
 B influences 2nd line past
 A influences 1st line present

A influences come from life and constantly oppose one another. No progress (real) can come from A. B inf. come from outside life and are the beginning of the magnetic center. C inf. is direct oral teaching.

1st line is work on one's self. 2nd line is work with others. 3rd line is work for the work itself. All 3 lines are needed to succeed.

This is easy enough, but it is an essential trinity that pops up again and again. BE HERE NOW. No, NOW! No, NOW! No, NOW!

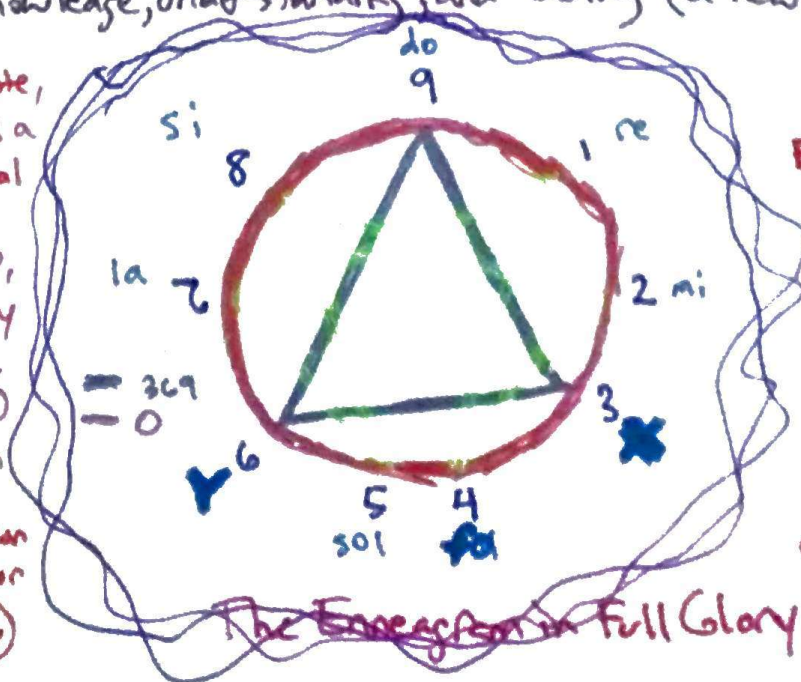

Three New Laws of Three

The first step of this work is separating oneself from oneself - creating an impartial Witness, or 'Observing I'. Then when one can distinguish between A influences and B influences ~~and~~ they develop the link to higher centers - the magnetic center.

This is the detailed ENNEAGRAM page. Memorize the numbers, they will come in handy. There are three plans of the enneagram. But before we come to that we must study the magical number 7. If you look at the decimal of $1/7$, it is $0.142857...$. $2/7 = 0.285714...$. $3/7 = 0.428571...$ this order continues. Any number divided by 7 has some sequence, in order, in the decimal representation with the numbers 1-4-2-8-5-7. You will see this in just a second. But notice that 3, 6, and 9 are not in the sequence of numbers divided by 7. This is the basis of the enneagram. The triangle, representing either a Law of Three or the specific 2 intervals present in every octave.

So this is how the enneagram is constructed. A circle is drawn. A triangle is drawn. Then a complex hexagram is created by connecting the decimal fraction when dividing by seven. Therefore, there will be a line from 1 to 4 to 2 to 8 to 5 to 7 back to 1. The three plans are also outlined. You should be able to see how perfect this symbol is, and it is purported to be able to encompass any knowledge, understanding, and being (a new Law of Three for ye)

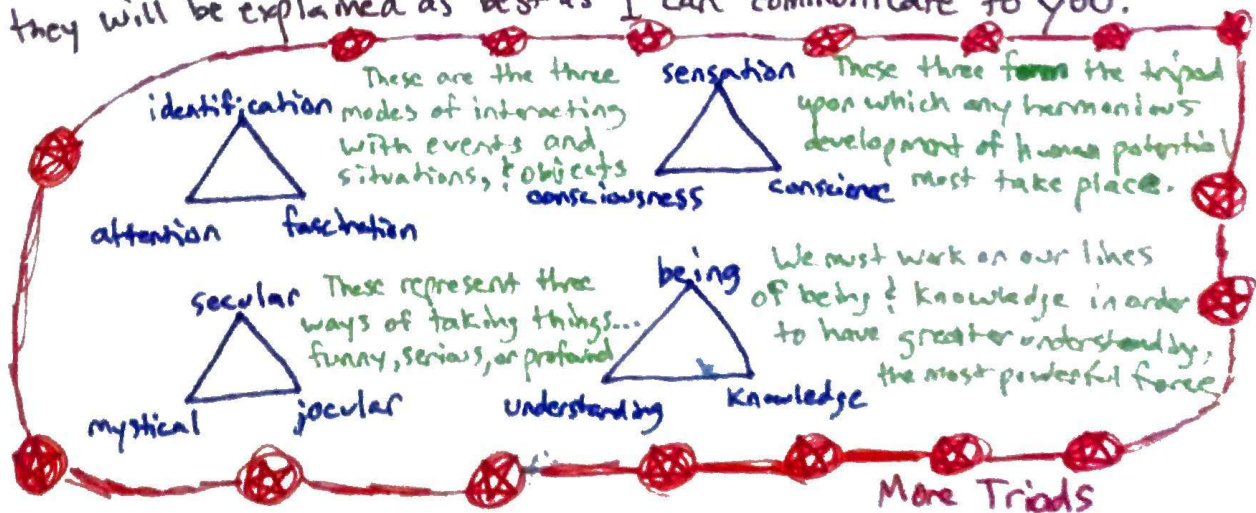

As a sidenote, 3 octaves plus a final do equal 22. When divided by 7, it is awfully close to π . ($3.142857...$) The enneagram is a visual representation or symbol for π ... 😊

This is the ideal ENNEAGRAM, where there are nine elements. As we know, the universe was created when the diatonic scale had to bear the separation of the three forces, thus only having seven elements.

The enneagram is far from revealing its intimate secrets. But you can probably already tell that it is a symbol that totally encompasses all laws of three and laws of seven in an infinite number of ways.

It is essential to remember, ponder, and meditate on the ideas of this system of threes and sevens. Did you ever think that 2 numbers could contain as much information as these do? Indeed, the more you accept these teachings, the easier it becomes. You must somehow find it in yourself to change from identification with transient sensory experience. The senses do not compare to the unfathomable power that self knowledge, along with corresponding developments in one's understanding and level of being, can bring. But it proceeds according to law. One must have an empty cup if he is to fill it with a new liquid. One must be able to drop the false personality. It can be described as an animal, one's own animal nature. Once you threaten the separate false self, it will fight to the death to survive. But simply by meditating, concentrating, using affirmations and visualizations - persevering through Dark Moor or the Chapel Perilous you will attain exactly what you seek. Universal Spirit becomes one with your Inner Being. Your real, single, permanent 'I' is nurtured by the four Pillars. They carry it, structure it, and realize it! Here are some more radical Law of Threes than we have seen so far, they will be explained as best as I can communicate to you.

In identification, there is a mechanical force acting. Fascination is more emotional but still tainted by identification really. Attention is using the will to direct one's focus. Being & knowledge should develop side by side, in order to increase their resultant, understanding. The other two triads are pretty obvious and I'm running out of room.

We will look at Hermetic doctrine now. A new Law of Three for you: philosophy / theory / practice. This will allow you to view the new law of seven from different perspectives. These principles are universal and complete in themselves. With this Master Key in your hands you may unlock many doors of perception. This came from the Kybalion. Masters use higher law to dominate the lower planes. So here are the seven principles expounded by Hermetic Teachings.

1) Principle of Mentalism - the universe is held in the mind of the ALL. Thought precedes all materialization in the physical world - not to mention the astral, mental, & causal planes.

2) Principle of Correspondence - As Above, So Below. We can infer operations from different planes.

3) Principle of Vibration - All things are in constant motion. Anything that moves is alive in some sense. Vibrations form the basis of any perception - whether through the senses or feelings or thoughts. Not to mention they also have varying rates of vibration from sound, to heat, to light, to higher radiations.

4) Principle of Polarity - Poles manifest in everything; the pendulum swings back and forth; but it is possible to polarize oneself on one extreme and resist the swing to its opposite by employing higher laws.

5) Principle of Rhythm - Everything ebbs and flows. The astral body lacks rhythm. Periodic swings of the pendulum.

6) Principle of Cause and Effect - Every cause is an effect and every effect is a cause. Identical causes produce identical effects.

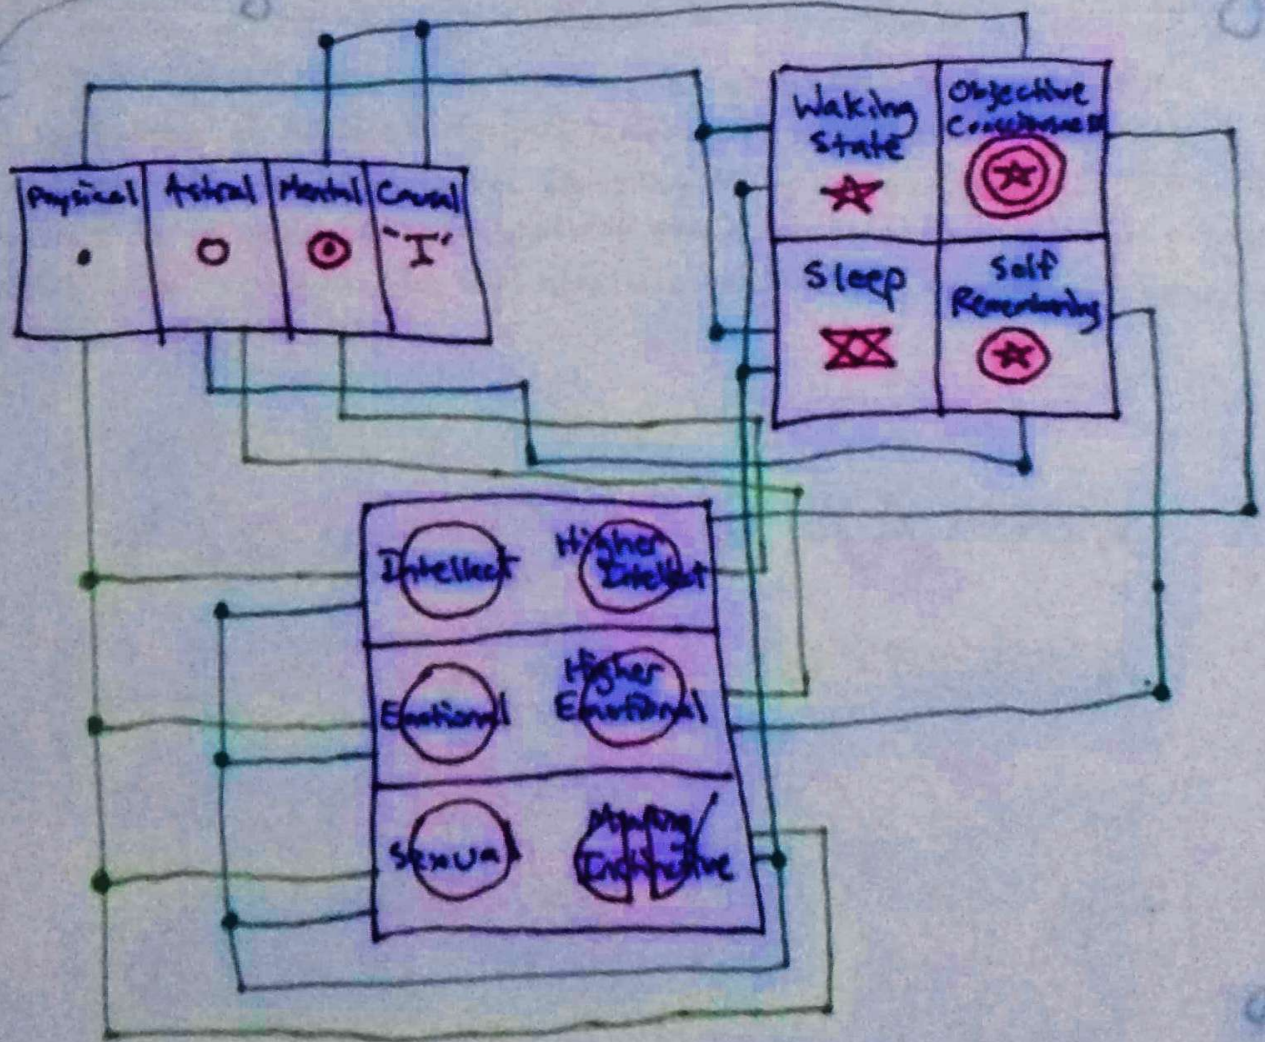

7) Principle of Gender - On every plane in the universe, male and female manifest. Explore this intriguing subject.

Hermetic Teachings

These principles are broad yet specific. They allow the blossoming of the Real I's consciousness. We must merely remember to observe the principles in action.

Here, we are going to show how the body (the four bodies), the personality (the centers), and the essence (the states of consciousness) connect to one another.

This is a very good diagram that connects our knowledge together in order for it to be able to become understanding in our being. It is mostly logical.

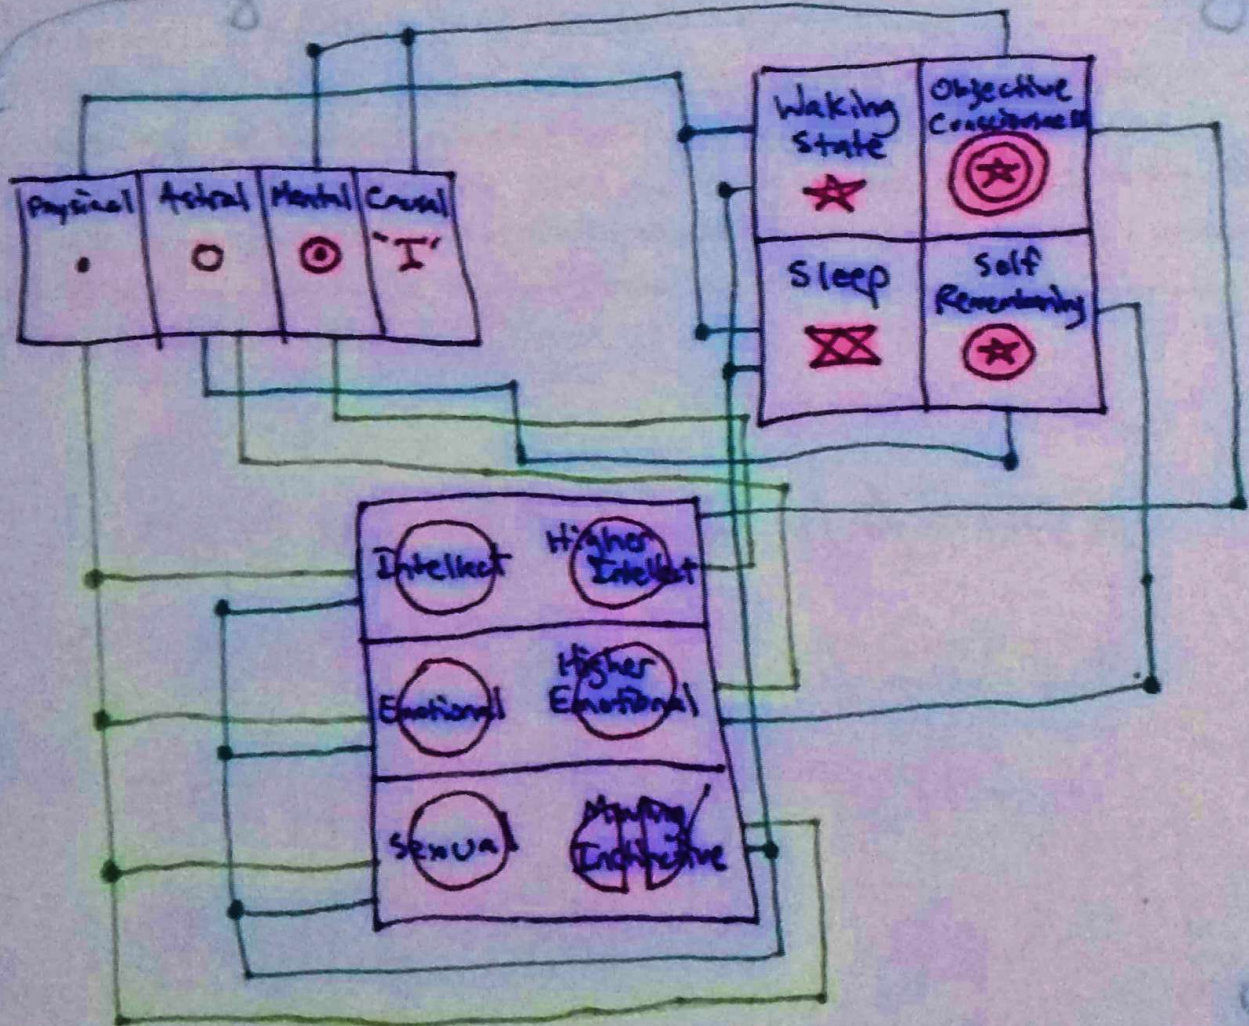

Higher Map of Connecting

This is high knowledge of our being. See the correspondences, some which make sense, others that are counterintuitive. This way of viewing ourselves is a complete picture of our operation. We can see that all processes proceed through some matter or concentrated energy.

"Eastern" traditions like Buddhism, Hinduism, Sufism, etc. become intrinsically in concepts like Karma. Karma is a force that is created by us in our day to day existence, then returns when we send out. Karma translated means "action"... Yoga means "union with God". So Karma Yoga is the actions that are done consecutively to unite w/ God. Prana is the breath energy, the pran is food or physical energy, pranayama is the art of mindfulness and control of the breath. Dharma is the day to day following of the law of scriptures or your ways is an individual illusion; Samsara is the great illusion - a wheel of births and deaths. Moksha is the cessation of mindless identification with samsara. Sadhana is the work and practice of spirituality. It is the study we are always doing. SAMADHI is a ~~constant~~ concentrated state of sustained attention. SATORI is a contemplative logical state in which the unity of all phenomena is differentiated at will.

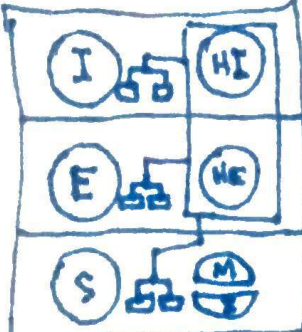

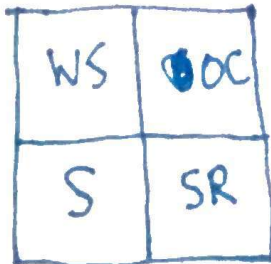

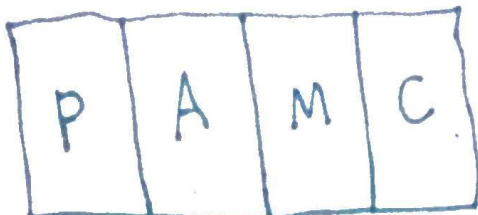

These are a few of my favorite things. See if you can apply these to Earlier work concepts and diagrams and form intuitive lines. They are open for the Self-Remembering based on Self-observation without ME or Identification... to see new patterns emerging where you did not before.

NEAR COMPLETE TEACHING

A period from the first of this awakening of knowledge to now if you have read and remembered to the best of your ability has now expired. You will not achieve the Quantum Heaven. If even this does not inspire you - maybe you will come around in a few hundred lifetimes. The universe is what we make of it. Nature provides the form of the cosmic sonnet but nurture fills in the blanks. So go away if you don't think you're ready for 7 and 3. I will understand completely if by now you have formed a ~~new~~ "least resistance" attitude and you see your path as clearly as you hear the collective unconscious's tautology. Why are you still reading, you PLUK SUM? OK if God is with you, pray continue. I will rehash what is necessary from all of it - as this is a different 'now' and symbols interpreted literally, usually only takes into account one shade of meaning, when in truth, a symbol has an endless variety of approaches, associations, and meanings. Now how do we appropriate these different perspectives into one?

The plants on Earth have been called "energy-binding". The animals, "space-binding." Humans? Well we're called "time-binding". So this plane of existence we usually are holding tightly as if we were pushed off a precipice with a large rock, and we are holding to this rock for dear life, is permeated with these three primary modes of function (oh, and how do they connect w/ the three centers or three foods?) So: here is some time-binding tips: inTime Distortion or Time Control.

5 minutes or 1 Hour becomes 30 minutes or 6 hours

"POSITIVE TIME DILATION"

30 minutes or 6 hours becomes 5 minutes or 1 Hour

"REVERSE TIME DILATION"

Mastery Time

This is of course relative, but it gives a clear direction practically.

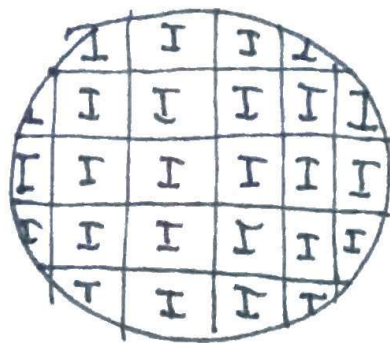

Bind time as you will. One must discover one's True Will. "The whole thing; all work on oneself; consists in choosing the influence to which you wish to be subjected, and actually falling under this influence. And it is necessary to know beforehand which is the most profitable" - G16
 You cannot become free of one influence before without falling under ~~the~~ another influence. So let's talk about a new paradigm that connects all of these seemingly different influences and maybe you'll see some of what I mean. I changed my mind. Look on the next page for the complete teaching of the, as I will now refer to it as because I have not come up with a cool, distinctive, and meme-alicious term yet, "Work System Paradigm". So here is a new diagram which throws light onto the inner workings of the human body. Prerequisites for understanding? First, we remember as always the Ray of Creation. It is the source of all possible influences that have been observed to date on this plane and in the usual dimensions we inhabit. Anyway - H768 is Food, H192 is Air, and H48 are raw impressions.

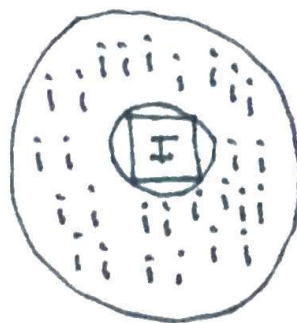

Food Diagram

If you cannot see the associations these ideas bring to focus, then just MEMORIZE IT for now; these diagrams are important.

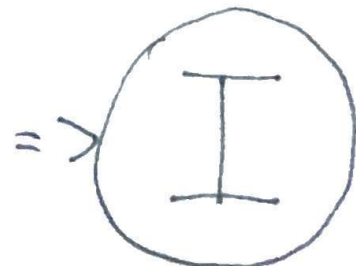

OK - we're starting over from the beginning. We must be able to begin again an infinite number of times. Repetition (repetition) is unavoidable. Those that forget the past are doomed to repeat it. The most important idea in the Work, the most practical, the most OBVIOUS - is that we have many different I's. It is like a kingdom where a new King is appointed every 5 minutes, and their promises are hardly ever honored by the other Kings. If this were all, it would be enough to understand the Many I's Doctrine. But the Kings also make mistakes that other Kings have to pay for. Along with the many roles we play - student, teacher, lover, friend, sponsor, creator, imitator - there are the different mechanisms that naturally divide I's into separate functions. There comes the idea of centers, bodies, and states of consciousness. Without the Method of this system, there is no unity in Man.

Many I's
The Average Mechanical Man
No. 1-3

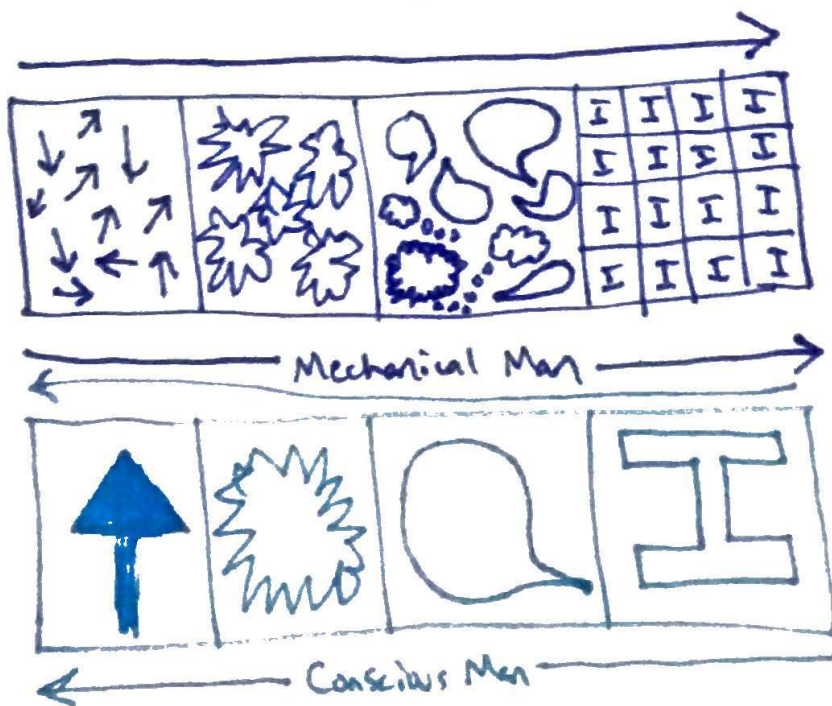

Steward
Man No. 4

Real, Single, Permanent I
Master
Man No. 5+

The process starts with separating oneself from oneself, which any grown up man can accomplish who has serious desires. The first step is realizing YOU ARE NOT YOUR thoughts, feelings, and sensations. If this is done properly you will develop the Witness, or 'Observing I'. The essential characteristic of such is objectivity or impartiality. This process will lead to the formation of the magnetic center. The Steward has come; the house of many servants each doing their own thing is put into order. Eventually, by unification of the Many I's, the Steward becomes a Master. This whole thing has the appellations 'Self-Remembering' and 'Self-Observation'. This is only the most powerful idea in all of my studies. These are the first two pillars of the Great Work.

In order to find and create a real, single, permanent I, and make this master of ourselves—we must study the entire system. The system begins with the notion that we are not completed—that we are in a process that is unstable. The instability is a natural consequence of the way our world is currently set up. We do not use even a tenth of our full potential. This can be seen very quickly when we ask someone if they are conscious. They will say Yes. And if you ask them again a few minutes later, they will remember both times. But this is only because we have given them our consciousness. We must realize an important Truth: consciousness has degrees, like everything else. We can look at the product of consciousness with 3 different criteria: what we are conscious of, how long we stay conscious, and how often we become conscious. There is something called "reversing the pump". In life, we begin with only external influences—the world. This naturally creates many different (and possibly opposing) impulses based on the many varieties of impressions received. This in turn creates many different desires—which create many different thoughts—which then creates MANY DIFFERENT 'I's. The action of this system is reverse: ~~the I controls many thoughts which are all controlled by SPR~~ the one I controls the thoughts—which order desire—which bring into harmony the impulses of our body.

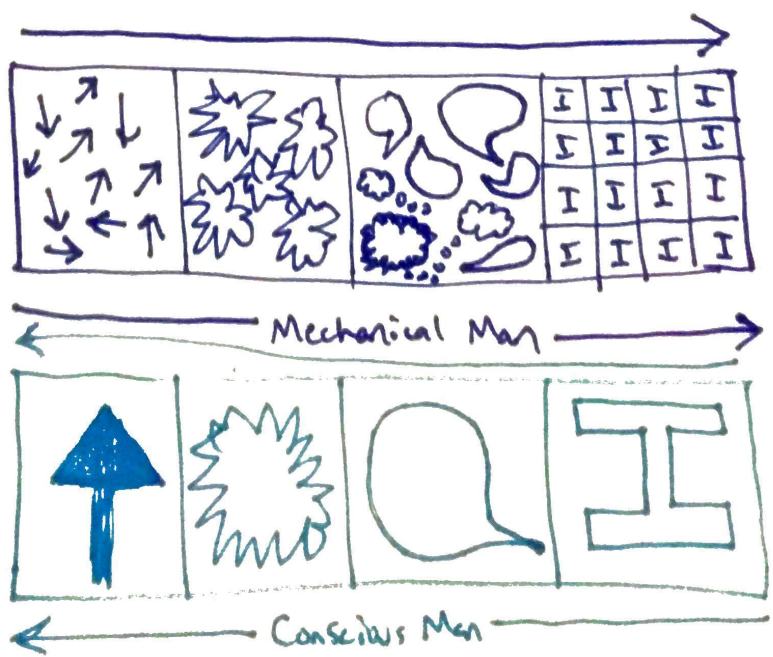

CAN U SEE THE DIFFERENCE?

How can we approach another with the Work ideas? Our conditionality prevents us from 'seeing' the valuable and immediate import of these ideas. We have a Grand Unified Theory now and perhaps we have known since we became sentient. We know that these ideas are true because we can OBSERVE that: (A) the moon circles the earth (B) which circles the sun (C) which circles the central sun, and so on. We see a hierarchy of powers of intelligence and consciousness. Yes, to the awakened being, it is obvious that everything in existence is alive to differing extents. Awareness is imbedded in the smallest speck of dust - but what is the difference between this primordial awareness and the highest degrees of divine or cosmic consciousness?

The esoteric ideas say that at one time, the earth was like the moon, and the sun was like the earth. And in the future, the moon will become like the earth, and the earth like the sun, and a new moon will appear.
It is like if you went to be serious and put the universe down, you'll say it's all going downhill from here, entropic destruction with the lights eventually going out. But if you see how beautiful and eternal the universe is, put it up and see that evolution provides endless experience and is thus a proof of our immortal spirit. We will go on and on for infinite amounts of time, for aeons upon aeons, because the Universe is our home. We will ALWAYS be safe in the infinite mind of the ALL.
